- “cookies” are small size text files stored on your device (computer, tablet or mobile phone) when you are browsing the Internet, including the website.

The kinds of processed personal data

FUCHS CONDIMENTE RO SRL processes, through the www.v6bbq.com website, the following data categories:

- Identification data, collected directly from the user: name, surname, correspondence address, e-mail, phone number (mobile, fax, landline).
- We automatically collect various data regarding your device when you access our website, information regarding the browser used, IP address and certain cookies installed on your device. Also, by navigating more websites, also through cookies, we collect information regarding the products you look at, search terms and information regarding the way you interact with the site. From a technical point of view, this kind of data can be obtained by us through:
 - a) Cookie modules, which are small sized text files, which are stored on your computer, phone, tablet or mobile device and often contain a unique online identifier. They are stored on the aforementioned devices by websites that you access (such as our site) and contain information regarding your activity on said sites – for example – accessed subpages, time spent on a certain page etc.

- b) Tracking actions of “journal files” which appear on the site and data collection, including IP address, the type of browser used, Internet provider, entry/exit pages and date/time registries.
- c) Other technical means associated with cookie modules and used for the same reasons, such as: pixels, web beacons, widgets, identifiers associated with the device, etc.

For more extra information, check the Cookie Policy.

Cookies used on the current website give a valuable feedback and help us in our attempt to improve the online experience. The site uses cookies, such as tokens that remain active until the browser page is closed. The information obtained by these cookies are not stored in data bases, and once the browser is closed, the cookies are deleted from your computer.

Who does this data belong to?

FUCHS CONDIMENTE RO SRL only processes personal data belonging to customers, and employees of customers or potential customers.

How is this data obtained?

Data is obtained directly from the concerned people, the moment they are transmitted, by the user, through the means presented on the website (email, phone number, fax) or through cookies.

The cookie is installed through the request sent by a webserver to a browser (e.g. Internet Explorer, Chrome) and is completely “passive” (does not contain software, viruses or spyware, and cannot access information from the user’s hard drive). A cookie is formed out of 2 parts: its name and its content or the cookie’s value. More than this, the duration of existence for a cookie is determined; technically, only the webserver that sent the cookie can access it again, the moment a user returns to the website associated with the respective webserver.

For what purposes is data processed?

- Offering support to consumers and customers or possible customers
- Processing orders, billing and sending
- To improve our services
- For marketing. In order to keep you updated with our offers. In most cases, we base our marketing communication based on your consent, expressed beforehand. However, you can retract your consent any time, by unsubscribing.
- This website uses third party cookies in order to supply the users with a much better browsing experience, and services tailored to each person's interests and needs. A cookie contains the information which links a web browser (the user) and the webserver (the website). If a browser accesses that web server again, it can read the already stored data and act accordingly.
Cookies ensure that the users have a pleasant browsing experience and uphold the efforts of many websites to offer comfortable services to the users: e.g. preferences regarding online confidentiality, options regarding the site's language or relevant advertising.

More precisely, a visit on this website can place cookies with the purposes of:

- Site performance cookies, vital for providing the website's services, for example cookie modules for system management.
- Advertising cookie modules – used directly by us (own cookie modules), or used through third parties (third party cookie modules) to provide relevant and customized marketing materials for each user, as well as evaluating the efficacy of that content. For example, advertising customization cookies.
- Analysis cookies. Every time a user visits this website, the analytics software supplied by a third party generates a user analysis cookie. This cookie tells us if you have visited this site before until now. The browser will let us know if you have this cookie, and if not, we will generate one. This allows monitoring the unique users that visit our website, the numbers of visits, the duration of the visits, testing different design ideas during your visit and identifying errors that may appear during your visit.

Other third party cookies

On certain pages, third parties can set their own anonymous cookies, with the purpose of tracking the success of an application or to customize and application. Thanks to the way of usage, this site cannot access other cookies, in the same way third parties cannot access cookies owned by this site.

Cookies used on the current site can be from the following third parties:

a) Google analytics

The site uses Google Analytics in order to collect information regarding how the users visit this site, in order to detect possible browsing issues. Google Analytics stores information regarding the visited pages, browsing duration, the way through which the site was accessed, as well as which sections were accessed on the pages. No personal information is stored, and thus, these cookies cannot be used to identify the user. The site also uses Google Analytics in order to see if the site meets the user's expectations, and in order to prioritize the improvement of undergone processes. Google offers more information about cookies in the privacy policy and cookies page. Also, Google offers an add-on which gives the option to cancel Google Analytics, no matter on the accessed pages. If you wish to find out more regarding how Google uses and collects this data, access the following link <https://policies.google.com/privacy> .

b) On the site we use social media icons, as well as video content imbedded from other websites, such as YouTube.

In order for us to be able to offer you all this imbedded content, we use a series of technical means, assimilated to cookie modules, which are named widgets or pixels, which we obtain from other entities, such as social media platforms (e.g. Facebook, Twitter, YouTube). For example, we use Facebook Pixel, a service offered by Facebook and used to track your activity on www.fuchs.ro following your interaction with the advertisements delivered through the Facebook advertisement network. When you visit a page with imbedded content (such as a video on YouTube) or click on the symbol of a social media on our website, a cookie module will be placed in your computer.

Additionally, we can recognize information from the cookie modules in your computer, in order to understand the way in which you interact with our website and with the electronic messages sent by us. We obtain this through the usage of technical means assimilated to cookie modules, called web beacons. These allow us to correlate information from the cookie modules regarding you. For example, we use web beacons stored in email sent to you in order to identify if you've opened them, or if you are interested in the content supplied there.

What is the basis of data processing?

- Based on a legitimate interest of FUCHS CONDIMENTE RO SRL (e.g. an answer to consumers'/customers' requests)
- Based on the consent of the concerned person in the case in which it was given, and only for marketing activities or in the case of data transfer that is not a legal or contractual obligation.

Is providing personal data mandatory for concerned persons?

In certain situations, refusing to provide data can make FUCHS CONDIMENTE RO SRL unable to accomplish contractual or legal obligations.

Refusing or deactivating cookies does not mean you will stop receiving online advertising, it will only mean that it will no longer take your interests and preferences into consideration.

To whom can personal data be sent?

- Services providers (maintenance, website development);
- Courier service providers;
- Banking service providers;
- Public institutions, only if there is a request or legal obligation in this sense, or to defend a legitimate interest;

We make sure that access to your data by third party legal entities is done in conformity with legal provisions regarding data protection and information confidentiality, based on contracts with said entities.

For how long do we process personal data?

During the entire period of consent (for marketing communications), during the entire duration of the contractual relationship or for 2 years in the case of reclamations, suggestions. In case there are legal provisions regarding keeping certain data with personal character, they will be stored accordingly.

A cookie's lifetime can vary drastically, depending on the reason it was placed. Some cookies are used exclusively for a single session (session cookies) and are no longer retained once the user leaves the website, and some cookies are retained and reused every time the user revisits the website (permanent cookies). However, cookies can be deleted by a user at any time, through browser settings.

The rights of concerned people:

- The right to be informed – the right to receive detailed information regarding the data processing activities, according to those in the current document;
- The right to access – can request and obtain a confirmation that his or her personal data are processed or not, and if they are, can request access to those, as well as certain information.
